Kasdeya Rite of Passage 2010-08-30 excerpt from fifth report of the director of the national heart lung and blood institute the national heart lung and blood institute nhlbi approaches the 30th anniversary of its existence as the nations focus for research on cardiovascular diseases and marks the 5th year since its authority was enlarged

Congress to advance the national attack on heart blood vessel and blood diseases it is therefore an appropriate time to reflect on the past and look forward toward the future at the programs, accomplishments of the last five years at the challenges faced by NHLBI as it leads the national attack and at the institutes research strategy and programs designed to meet these challenges accordingly this the fifth report of the director of the National Heart Lung and Blood Institute reviews the institutes activities progress and accomplishments since passage of the National Heart Blood Vessel and Blood Disease Act of 1972 (PL 92-423) looks at institute programs and programs for the period 1978-1982 summarizes legislative initiatives and resulting institute mandates describes program planning evaluation and coordination activities and projects manpower and resource needs the primary focus of this report is the scientific content of the institutes biomedical research programs these programs form the basis of the institutes strategy to coordinate and support activities which have as their ultimate objective prevention of cardiovascular pulmonary and blood diseases and effective control of their complications the report begins by examining the magnitude of the challenges faced by the NHLBI describes the nature of the institutes response to those challenges in terms of program strategy and program elements and provides evidence of program impact in terms of reductions in morbidity and mortality and improvement in the quality of life after reviewing the state of the science in 1972 and program goals for the period 1977-1977 each section describes accomplishments during that period updates the state of the science to that in 1977 states program goals for the years 1978-1982 and outlines the research activities needed to meet those goals it is hoped that this report provides the reader with an appreciation of the enormity of the disease problems the institutes purview and of the magnitude complexity and so the research evaluation demonstration education and training programs which must be planned implemented and coordinated in order to have even a minimal effect on these disease problems of these proportions requires a research program strategy comprising a spectrum of logical integrated activities resources commensurate with the size of the task and sufficient time to the discovery development evaluation demonstration and transfer of new knowledge clearly the cost in terms of manpower money and time is great but the benefits are even greater no less than improved health increased longevity and better quality of life for all americans

The Fifth Sorceress 2003-06-10 in the fifth sorceress robert newcomb conjures a time and place wrought with exquisite detail characters vividly drawn and deeply felt and a history rich in glory and horror splendor and secrets we gave them a chance once upon a time ago we offered to share power equally and in peace but they refused and chose war with them it was all or nothing wizard against sorceress male against female light against dark it is more than a century since the ravages of a devastating war nearly tore a kingdom of eutracia in its wake those who masterminded the bloodshed a quartet of powerful conquest hungry sorceresses sentenced to exile with return all but impossible and death all but inevitable now a land of peace and plenty protected and guided by a council of immortal wizards eutracia is about to crown a new monarch and as the coronation approaches the spirit of celebration fills the heart except one prince tristan is a reluctant monarch to be born with the endowed blood that will give him the power to rule by magic and destined by tradition to succeed his father as ruler rebel soul and when he discovers the ancient hidden caves where strange red waters flow possessed of their own mysterious magic only makes him yearn all the more to escape his future of duty succumb to the stirrings of enchantment within him but more tradition compels tristan to ascend the throne the very existence of eutracia depends upon it for after these long centuries of peaceful rule dreadful omens have begun to appear heralding something too unspeakable to ponder and if indeed the old evil has returned to wreak vengeance tristan's role in an ages old prophecy must be fulfilled or the cost to his kingdom and his people will be beyond imagination it will be a battle like none ever known against an enemy whose thirst for blood and domination is depthless and unyielding and for tristan it will be the ultimate challenge facing an adversary whose greatest weapon is the person he loves most transformed into the instrument of his annihilation and the catalyst that will doom eutracia forever to darkness
