approach less complex and easier for firms to apply we illustrate the approach with examples from different industries it is the main objective of this work to address the scaling and design challenges of esd protection in deeply scaled technologies first the thesis introduces the on chip esd events the scaling and design challenges and the nomenclatures necessary for later chapters the esd design window and the i o schematics for both rail clamping and local clamping esd schemes are illustrated then the thesis delves into the investigation of the input and output driver devices and examines their robustness under esd the input driver s oxide breakdown levels are evaluated in deeply scaled technologies the output driver s trigger and breakdown voltages are improved appreciably by applying circuit and device design techniques the esd device sections first discuss rail based clamping a widely used protection scheme two diode based devices namely the gated diode and substrate diode are investigated in detail with soi test structures characterization is based on dc current voltage i v very fast transmission line pulse v f tlp capacitance and leakage measurements improvements in performance are realized technology computer aided design tcad simulations help understand the physical effects and design tradeoffs then the following section focuses on the local clamping scheme two devices the field effect diode fed and the double well fed dwfed are developed and optimized in an soi technology trigger circuits are designed to improve the turn on speed the advantages of local clamping is highlighted and compared with the rail based clamping the results show that the fed is a suitable option for power clamping applications and the dwfed is most suitable for pad based local clamping the thesis presents an esd protection design methodology which takes advantage of the results and techniques from pervious chapters and put each element into a useful format based on the correlation of package level and in lab test results a design process based on cdm target definition and device optimization discharge path analysis parasitic minimization i o data rate estimation and finally esd and performance characterization is used sequentially to systematically realize the overall design goals if you are a student teacher teaching assistant teacher coach staff developer and or administrator and you re looking for a strategy book to build engagement the big book of engagement strategies was designed for you this book has over fifty strategies that you can use tomorrow with students alright some of them will require a little more prep but you get the gist what s more though many of the strategies in this book use a specific content area or grade level for an example most can be easily modified no matter the age or ability of the students you work with or the content area that you teach thanks in part to the contributions of over fifteen educators who shared twenty different strategies the big book of engagement strategies and its predecessor engagement is not a unicorn it s a narwhal are premised on the idea that it is possible to achieve the highest levels of engagement in schools even if reaching that level has previously been seen as mythical highly engaged classrooms do exist but many people have never seen it some don t even believe it s possible because they can t even imagine it and still others think they ve achieved it even when they haven t in schools absorption the highest form of engagement would look like student driven environments where students initiate the learning and are intrinsically compelled to learn they want to keep at it after the bell rings after the lesson is over after the unit is done even if they weren t getting graded it s out there but it s a narwhal engagement is not a unicorn it s a narwhal aimed to shine a light on the mysterious educational narwhal by explaining what engagement is and is not in order to grow as many narwhals in your school as possible the big book of engagement strategies aims to provide you with even more strategies to achieve that same outcome please visit heather lyon s website
